DISCUSSION

The purpose of this Service Newsletter is to provide a brief description of the part numbering system for technical publications that are applicable for the new piston single engine model airplanes. These publications are: Pilots Operating Handbooks (PH), Maintenance Manuals (MM), Illustrated Parts Catalogs (PC), Wiring Diagram Manuals (WD), and Structural Repair Manual (SR).

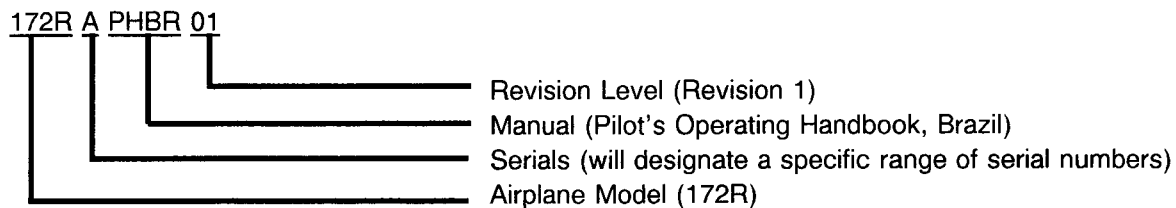

COUNTRY ABBREVIATIONS FOR MANUALS

Listed below are the country abbreviations used in the manuals.

Argentina	AG
Australia	AF
United Kingdom	GB
Brazil	BR
Canada	CA
China (P.R.C.)	CH
Finland	FI
France	FR
Germany	GR
Netherlands	NE
South Korea	KO
Sweden	SW
United States	US

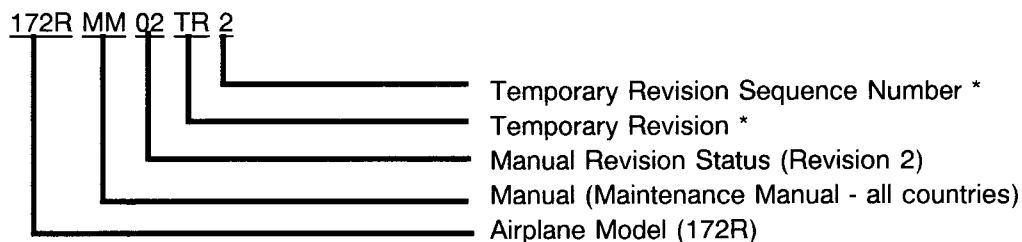

PILOT'S OPERATING HANDBOOKS

An example for part number 172RAPHBR01 is shown.

AIRPLANE MAINTENANCE MANUALS

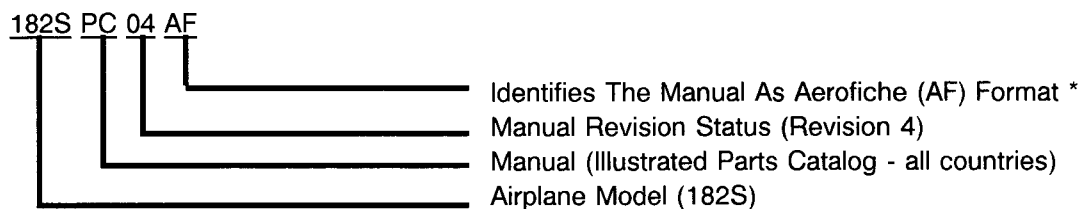

An example for part number 172RMM02TR2 is shown.

- * The absence of the TR suffix and the temporary revision sequence number from the part number identifies the document as a complete manual.

AIRPLANE ILLUSTRATED PARTS CATALOGS

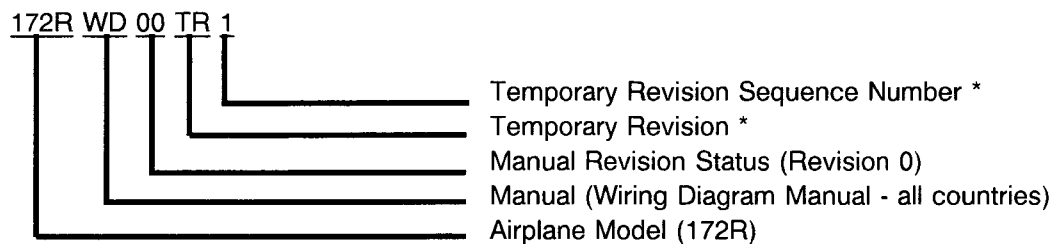

An example for part number 182SPC04 is shown.

- * The absence of the AF suffix from the part number identifies the document is in paper format.

AIRPLANE WIRING DIAGRAM MANUALS

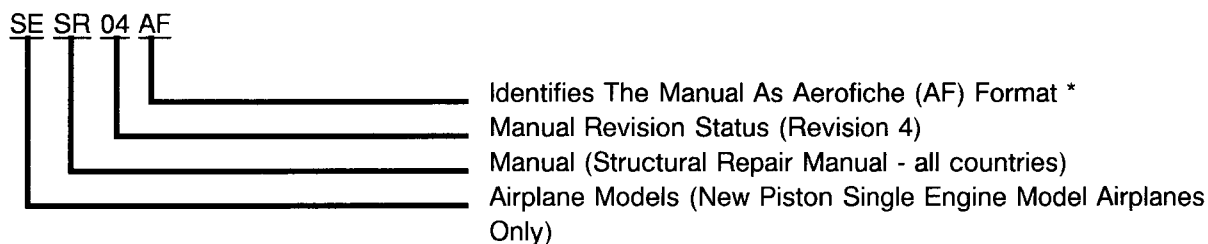

An example for part number 172RWD00TR1 is shown.

- * The absence of the TR suffix and the temporary revision sequence number from the part number identifies the document as a complete manual.

AIRPLANE STRUCTURAL REPAIR MANUAL

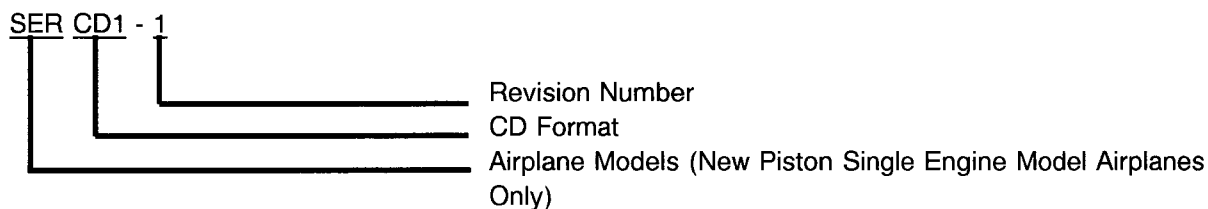

An example for part number SESR04AF is shown.

- * The absence of the AF suffix from the part number identifies the document is in paper format.

CD-ROM

An example for part number SERCD1-1 is shown.

One CD will contain all Maintenance Manuals, Illustrated Parts Catalogs, Wiring Diagram Manuals, the Structural Repair Manual, and all applicable service bulletins for the new piston single engine model airplanes.

TEMPORARY REVISIONS

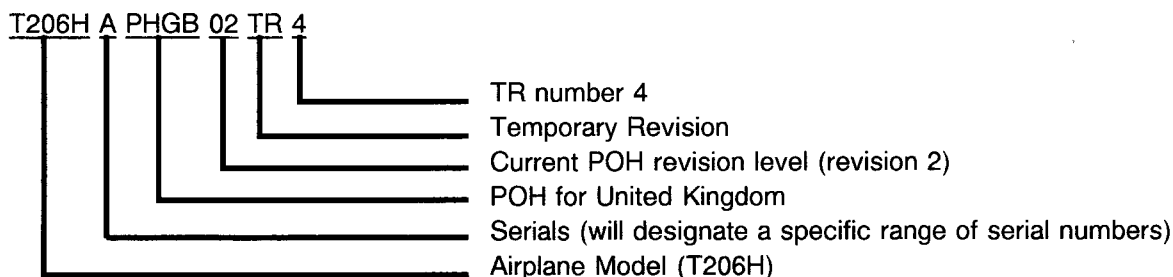

Temporary Revisions (TR's) will be issued in paper format only. Paper copies of TRs will be issued to Aerofiche subscribers.

All outstanding TRs will be incorporated in the next revision to a manual. Temporary revision numbers will start over with 1, after a new manual revision is published.

Example:

T206HAPHGB02TR4 Revision 2 has 4 outstanding TRs. Once revision 3 is released, the manual part number will be T206HAPHGB03.

Any new TRs will have the manual revision number incorporated in it, precluding duplication of TR part numbers. Refer to the following example of a T206H Pilot's Operating Handbook.
